

Form 2B

Statutory Declaration as to Owner-Builder Status

Section 45, 87D, and 90D, Building Act 2004

Who can apply to be an owner-builder?

If you're a homeowner who qualifies for the exemption, you will not need to be or use a licensed building practitioner (LBP) for any restricted building work on your home. However, you will still need to apply for a building consent, and all work must still comply with the Building Code. Tasman District Council will inspect your work and you are responsible for the quality of the work. Any work you do will be listed as a do-it-yourself job on your Land Information Memorandum for any future buyers to see.

You may qualify as an owner-builder if you:

- live in or are going to live in the home (this includes a bach or holiday home)
- carry out the restricted building work to your own home yourself, or with the help of your unpaid friends and family members
- have not used the owner-builder exemption to carry out restricted building work to any other house in the previous three years

You cannot carry out all aspects of construction work, even with an owner-builder exemption. This work includes:

- plumbing
- gas-fitting
- drain-laying
- electrical work

How to submit this memorandum

You need to apply by completing a statutory declaration form before you can use the exemption. The form must be witnessed and signed by a Justice of the Peace, or someone else authorised to do so.
